

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

Consumer premises equipment (CPE) configured to be connected with one of a selectable plurality of call agents using one of a selectable plurality of call control languages in response to user input to the telephone. In one aspect, telephone users
5 can therefore select, e.g., a service provider. In another aspect, the CPE provides VoIP service to a telephone.